be stranded; we ought to be sensible now; but still we are fretting and now; but still we are fretting and awearing and sweating and raising the dence of a row. "Be patient and quiet, don't kick up a riot," the oracle tells us in vain; "get down to crocheting and cut out the braying, and prove to the world you are sane. The world has the world you are sane. The world has gone batty and nations are catty, they're filled with a rancor intense; and now it's the duty of every galmoty to set an example of sense." The oracle's pleading, but little we're heeding, we're milling around in our tracks the oracle thunders and shows us our blunders, and begs us to get down to tacks. And still we are spicling and sicking the ceiling, and cussing and ranthy around, and wildly eavorting and whooping and snorting, and pawing up acres of ground. The welkin is shaking from noise we are making; we've dented it up with our roars; the times will be dizzy until we get busy, get back to our usual chores.

The federation would be a good thing, even if it did nothing more than bring the citizens of the various localities together, and make them acquainted with each other and allay petty jealousies, but during its brief existence it has already proved its value as a promoter of harmony and co-operation by initiating programs for improvement of conditions and county betterment.

Several projects have been undertaken by the federation, which are to be commended. They are: proper publicity for the county marking of highways and cross—
